Our Edmonton Letter Pres. Wells Here Monday Night

(By T. B. WINDROSS)

Edmonton, Nov. 10—Alberta was all set again this week to be hauled into Utopianism; Leslie D. Byrne, bearing the mantle and the $6,000 salary (supplemented by a suitable expense account which amounted to $2,750 for the cost of getting to Edmonton in the first place) of a permanent member of the "provincial credit commission" set up under the Social Credit board, arrived in Edmonton to resume his expiring.

Many Albertans were surprised at the statement drawn from Mr. Byrne by interviewers as he reached the scene of his efforts. "The difficulty now standing in the way of Social Credit in Alberta," he said, "is not economic or technical but merely political, and until the political hindrance is removed nothing can be done about Social Credit."

He did not explain how it occurred, that he as a "technician" of Social Credit should be brought to Alberta so early when there is no possibility of proceeding with Social Credit. Neither was any member of the government offered an explanation of it.

Albertans voted not for Social Credit in the 1935 election but for $25 a month and a lower living cost. That's what Mr. Byrne said in a statement which he had all ready for newspapers when he landed in Quebec earlier last week, and which showed signs of having been written by himself or someone else before he left Major Douglas' headquarters in London for Alberta. William Aberhart's platform and promises of something called Social Credit during the election campaign, according to that statement, didn't draw the votes at all; it was just the promise of a $25 a month dividend.

Many people in Alberta, who have opposed the Social Credit party political machine all along, have said from the very first, and usually have had it denied until Mr. Powell and Mr. Byrne, and evidently Major Douglas saw the need of reviving that invalid in law. In such cases of talk about a basic dividend unless the whole Social Credit picture were to be shattered in Alberta, with unhealthy effect on Major Douglas' world appeal as a writer of books and as a solicitor of contributions to help a new economic order of civilization.

But Mr. Byrne is back in Alberta again. He gave up his job with an insurance company in Birmingham to come here, he said, and so must struggle along on the $6,000 salary and travelling expenses, as long as he continues to be employed by the people of Alberta. There still has been no report, as far as is known, on the activities of Mr. Byrne and Mr. Powell during the summer when, presumably, they were drawing up statistics and a plan for Alberta.

The claims have been made by supporters of the present government lately about the sovereign rights of the province are to be aired now, the dominion government, having announced last week that the licensing bill, the bank taxation bill and the press control bill on which royal assent was reserved when the bills were passed last month are all to be referred to the supreme court of Canada for a decision on their legal standing, along with the question of the dominion government's right to disallow provincial legislation.

Alberta newspapers have retained counsel to present their case before the court—the highest legal authority in the dominion—and acting as chief counsel will be Hon. J. L. Ralston, former minister of national defence for Canada, chief counsel for the Turgeon grain commission and long known as one of the outstanding lawyers of the dominion.

A public meeting will be held in the Stake House Monday evening next at 8 p.m., which will be addressed by Elder Rulon S. Wells one of the Seven Presidents of Seventy who will be here from Salt Lake City.

At 2 in the afternoon a meeting will be held with the members of the Seventies Quorum at 6.30 a meeting of the Taylor Stake Missionaries, and at 8 p.m. a general meeting to which the general public is invited. Elder Wells has years of activity in the missionary work of the Church and his address will be interesting and enlightening.

J. A. Cahoon was in Cardston over Friday last. It was his day off from the Factory.

The reference to the supreme court, however, will decide nothing more than the actual validity or invalidity, in law, of the three bills, although it will make clear the point as to whether the power of federal disallowance of provincial acts still exists. And whatever the decision of the supreme court of Canada the bills are then to be taken to the judicial committee of the imperial privy council—the highest legal and constitutional authority in the empire—for the judgment of that ultimate court, in order that the question may be settled for once and all. It was announced by Premier King.

The court's decisions on the three bills, however, will decide merely the legal validity of those bills, and after the question of whether they are ultra vires or intra vires of the province is decided, then the governor-general-in-council which in effect means the dominion government, will decide whether they are to receive the royal assent which was reserved when they were passed by the legislature. If it decides to approve royal assent to them then the dominion government will still have the right to disallow them.

It has been emphasized by legal authorities that the dominion's right of disallowance of provincial legislation—the right which is now being questioned by the Alberta government—was not meant to be exercised in the case of legislation which otherwise would be ultra vires, ultra vires legislation, the courts would throw out the invalid bills, it was emphasized: the power of disallowance was meant to be applied principally to provincial legislation which although good in law, was opposed to the policy, or a menace to the good government of the dominion as a whole. The power was meant to extend, as well, to legislation patently invalid which, if it were to be applied before it could be referred to courts, would damage the nation at large.

Thus, since Canada was established as a nation 70 years ago, that federal power of disallowance of provincial legislation has been used to check provincial politicians passing mischievous laws which would have the effect of endangering the well-being of Canada as a whole, and the liberties of the people.

And if ever there was such a law, it is being commented now by Canadians apart from the Social Credit government's following, it surely would be a law that violated national control of banking, freedom of conscience, freedom of speech or freedom of the press.

"Service" is Theme of Recent Conference

Service to our fellow men was the keynote of the recent Quarterly Conference of the Taylor Stake. It was a Mutual and Relief Society Convention Conference and special sessions for the executive officers and teachers of these organizations were held Saturday afternoon and evening and also preceding the general sessions. Representing the General Authorities in Salt Lake City were Elder Axel A. Madsen of the Y. M. M. I. A., Mrs. Polly R. Hardy of the Y. W. M. I. A. and Mrs. Emeline K. Nebeker of the Relief Society Board.

The Sunday Morning session of the Conference was under the direction of the Stake Relief Society and had to do largely with Relief Society work. Mrs. Joyce R. Harker of the Stake Relief Society Presidency reported the activities of the Stake officers for the past year. Mrs. Sadie Woodger spoke on "Child Welfare" and pointed out the things that might be accomplished through better cooperation on the part of the parents, Doctors, School Boards and Town Councils, not only in the preventing of epidemics but also in treating unfortunate cases where free treatment was provided by Provincial and Dominion funds. Mrs. Nebeker spoke on "The Strength of the Gospel Heritage" and traced the growth of the Relief Society work since its inception in 1842, paying tribute to the accomplishments of the six deceased and the present President of the organization. Music was furnished by the Singing Mothers of Stirling and Magrath, and a solo by Mrs. Elva Harker.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON TESTIMONY MEETING

Pres. T. Geo. Wood was in charge of the afternoon meeting which was called to order at 2 p.m. The President announced that there was no set program for this session, and he was going to make it a testimony meeting, for the Bishop's and Branch Presidents to hear their testimonies and encourage the people of the Stake.

Pres. Heber F. Allen spoke for a few minutes on the Church Security program, reported what had been done and making suggestions for the further carrying out of this project, asking particularly that the members of Quorums of the Priesthood organize to check on and care for the members of their Quorum who may need assistance and thus increase the fraternal spirit of the Quorums. The general Church and Stake authorities were present by Pres. Melvin T. King and were unanimously sustained.

The following were then called on for three minute talks: Bishops M. Elmer Riple, Arthur E. Fawns, J. Orvin Hicken, S. Floyd Wilde and Jas. H. Walker. Also Presidents Allan Erickson and Kimball Anderson of the Wrentham and Tyrell's Lake branches respectively. Elder Madsen and Sisters Hardy and Nebeker also spoke. The theme of all speakers was the value of their testimony to the truthfulness of the Gospel, the blessings of a good heritage and the debt we owe our progenitors and the value of serving, and the great blessing it was to be called to serve in the Church. A splendid spirit of testimony and humility was present at the meeting which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Music for this session was provided by the Stake Choir under the leadership of Wm. C. Stone, and the singers gave splendid renditions of "Guide Us O Thou Great Jehovah," "Let the Mountains Shout for Joy," "The Lost Chord" and "Praise Ye The Father." F. R. Taylor and his Male Quartette were heard to splendid advantage in "Invocation."

MANY SERVICE AWARDS AT NIGHT

The Sunday evening meeting was under the direction of the Stake M. I. A. and Paul Dahl of the Stake Y. M. M. I. A. was in charge. The Choir was again present and under the baton of Wm. C. Stone rendered a number of very fine selections. The quality of the singing in these sessions, especially the expression and tone coloring was very praise worthy, and showed the fruits of the hours of practice they have put in to work so nicely together.

Pres. M. T. King spoke on the M. I. A. theme for this winter which is the 24th Psalm and different classes of the Mutual were represented in short speeches on the theme. Mrs. Nebeker spoke briefly.

Mrs. Polly R. Hardy spoke briefly explaining some phases of M. I. A. work, and then awarded the three year service pin to Mrs. Luella Brandley, Mrs. Matilda Boyson, Mrs. Zelda Woolley and Mrs. Millie Dyson for three years continuous work in the Bee Hive classes. Mrs. Delight Proctor also earned this pin but was not present to receive it. Mrs. Luella Brandley was also awarded the five year pin, which Mrs. Hardy said was won by very few women.

Elder Madsen was asked to explain the requirements necessary to win the Master M Man pin, which included Executive work, Spiritual training, Speech, Drama, Music and Athletics, and tended to a well rounded character in the young manhood of the Church. The pin and the M Men name were chosen to represent outstanding achievement and character building for the young men.

Stake Superintendent Paul Dahl then presented the Master M Man pin to the following: Rulon Dahl, Bruce Heggie, Allan Watson, Floyd Hawkins, Moses Fromm, Earl Zemp and Wm. Anderson, and the fathers of these men pinned the pin over the heart of their boys.

Scout Commissioner Chas. S. Matkin presented Bert Boyson with his certificate of appointment as Scoutmaster of the Raymond 1st Ward troop.

Paul L. Dahl stated there were 78 Life members in the Raymond 1st Ward Y. M. M. I. A., and that in the Stake 16 Life memberships had been paid this year.

Elder Madsen bore his testimony and the Choir sang "Sing, Smile, Slumber."

NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fuita are the proud parents of a baby boy, born Saturday, Nov. 6th. Both are doing fine.

Wm. Paris was busy at the Town Hall Monday and Tuesday re-arranging the heating to provide the Library rooms with sufficient heat for the expected cold weather of the coming winter.

R. Wasy, farmer of Eriskine, Alta., lost a leg when a passing motor crushed it so badly it had to be amputated as Wasy was investigating the wreckage of two cars to see if he could do anything to help.

Council Meeting Last Wednesday

The Town Council met in regular session Wednesday night, the meeting being put ahead one day on account of Armistice Day Thursday. All members of the Council present.

Floyd Litefield was present for the replacement of the culvert on the diagonal road leading to his place, and this was granted, in view of the fact that quite a number of school children were using the road every day.

The sale of some parcels of property that had reverted to the Town for non-payment of taxes was discussed, and the Secretary instructed to write the interested parties regarding price, etc.

A Mother's Allowance application was in, and the Council discussed the merits of the case and decided on the monthly amount to be recommended.

C. F. Tollestrup was present, and made a report on the work at the dam. Good progress was being made, but gravel and stone was needed now to face the dam with so that it would be finished as the work progressed. Councillor Jensen also spoke as to the outfits that were at work, and asked for a set price on hauling rock and gravel. The Council felt that each case would have to be decided as to distance for hauling and that while a tentative rate of $1.50 per yard for rock was decided on, in some cases this might have to be changed a little. Gravel hauling was thought to be worth about $1.15 per yard from Temple hill, the haulers to load their own trucks.

The Inspector's report was read and discussed and ordered filed, with a letter to be sent to the Department informing them that the suggestions of the report would be adhered to.

The payroll was passed and meeting adjourned at 12 midnight.

A light skiff of snow covered the ground Friday morning, the first that has fallen this winter. Thursday was misty and quite cool with thermometers registering 21 above. The highest temperatures of the week were last Friday and on Wednesday, when the mercury soared to 59 above.

Wedding Bells

McNAUGHTON — SCOVILLE

Laurence Harold McNaughton of Cardston, and Miss Lenore Scoville, daughter of Mrs. E. H. Scoville were united in marriage at the Scoville home Saturday, November 6th, with Pres. E. J. Wood of the Alberta Stake officiating.

The bride is one of the popular young ladies of the town and for the past three or four years has been on the Public School staff here. The groom is the son of Mr. J. McNaughton of Drumheller, who with his daughter Eleanor were in attendance at the wedding, and for a number of years "Mac" as he is familiarly known has been head mechanic at the Carston Motors Garage in the Temple City, where the newlyweds will make their home at the conclusion of their honeymoon trip which they are spending in Portland and other coast cities. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony which was attended by relatives and a few friends from both Raymond and Cardston, after which the happy young couple left on their trip.

The best wishes of the community go with "Mac" and Lenore in their married life for a long and happy journey.

Armistice Day in Raymond

Armistice Day was appropriately and successfully observed in Raymond yesterday by the Veteran's Association, under the supervision of Pres. B. J. Coombs and his helpers. A short service was held in the morning at the cenotaph when Pres. T. Geo. Wood made a short talk and led in prayer, wreaths were placed, two minutes silence observed, and the Last Post sounded by Paul H. Redd.

In the evening a Banquet was held in the 2nd Ward Hall, at which were present all the Vets with their wives, also the members of the Town Council and their wives, and very successful evening was enjoyed by the group, a very fine supper being served by the 2nd Ward Primary officers. The following program was carried out:

Singing "O Canada", saying of Grace by the Chaplain O. H. Snow.

Speech of Welcome-Mayor S. I. May.

Response - Pres. B. J. Coombs Toast to the King-P. H. Redd. Male Quartette and encore-F. R. Taylor and Co.

Toast to fallen comrades-Pres. T. Geo. Wood.

Remarks - Chaplain O. H. Snow. In his remarks the Chaplain recounted some of the tremendous costs of the War in money and in life, and hoped that all would now consecrate themselves to the maintaining of peace, as willing and as effectually as they did to the winning of that peace 19 years ago. From present appearances the world was beginning to forget the past war, and were on the brink of another outbreak, which he sincerely hoped might be averted.

The election of officers resulted in the old slate going in for another term by acclamation. These include B. J. Coombs as President, L. J. Mohew as Vice-President and Lee Brewerton as Secretary-Treasurer. A vote of thanks was also passed to the Executive for their past year's work. Three new Vets were introduced to the meeting.

The National Anthem brought the banquet to a close, and then the crowd adjourned to the Opera House, and augmented by the remainder of the townspeople enjoyed the evening in dancing to the music of Jerry Bastyan's band.

During the evening community singing included some of the favorites of the boys while "over there and with the presence of the ladies made a very enjoyable evening which we think could be well continued in future years.

Gorden Brewerton was a Raymond visitor Tuesday.

Farewell Party Held

A missionary farewell party was held in the 2nd Ward Hall Monday evening last in honor of Elders Fay Walker and Carl Salmon, who are leaving shortly for the mission field, Fay to labor in the German Mission and Carl in the California Mission.

The Missionary committee of the 2nd Ward was in charge, and the program included the following numbers: Male Quartette, Milton Strong and Co. Talks by the Missionaries and their fathers. This was followed by dancing.

A cash collection was taken up during the evening, and turned over to the missionaries, the people of the ward responding very well in this matter. The boys will have the best wishes of the Taylor Stake people for their success and happiness in their missionary labors.

MISUNDESTOOD AND MISJUDGED

If we would make as much allowance for the other fellow's oddities and weaknesses as we would like others to make for ours, this would be a wonderful world in which to live. No matter how trivial the slight or supposed slight that we receive, we condemn the other fellow for poor judgment and for having a dislike for us. When we slight anyone though, he is a poor sort if he takes offence and gets angry because we did not mean it that way. Why couldn't we allow for the other fellow not having had intentions, when we are so sure that we didn't mean anything in our oversight.

As long as we remain in this mortal existence we are going to make mistakes. We will be on the wrong trail frequently, and will be needing the pardon and forgiveness of our fellowmen. Then why not adopt a charitable attitude in our own heart for others, and then when we need mercy we are likely to receive it. This was the lesson taught by the Savior when the servant came to him asking mercy for a big obligation and when it had been granted immediately went out and coerced his debtor who owed him but a very small sum in comparison to what he himself had been forgiven of. The servant likely had no evil intentions. His vision was dimmed. In obtaining forgiveness for himself he had only received his just dues; but this did not necessitate any consideration. The speaker made a point to him such is life.

Recently we were told, that a certain individual had been intoxicated and lost his job. Our informant was not sure but that was the report. It was false but the story had been circulated and the character of the individual was damaged to some extent by the reports. How much better it would have been had gossip held its tongue, and truth spoken when the facts of the matter were known. Unlike a cancer in the pain it brings to us, but just as deadly in its final result is the characteristic of holding grudges and feeding dislikes. One cannot help but become cankered and soured by such actions. Their nature changes to one of gloom and sorrow, and like the victim of cancer, their health begins to break down under the strain of nurturing such thoughts. It sounds preposterous, but experience and observation proves it true.

Let us make the world better and happier by refusing to listen to gossip, refusing to believe falsehood and slander. And let us make our own life happier and healthier by rooting out of our system any grudges and hatreds that we may have allowed to take root. "Judge not that ye be not judged."

DISTRICT CO-OPERATION

Because the following is good advice for Raymond too, we copy it and recommend its suggestions to our people.—Ed.

A substantial financial contribution to the local field of business could be accomplished if the rural and urban citizens would give preference to the local merchants and business houses of this community when purchasing the family and home requirements.

Many hundreds of dollars pass annually beyond our borders for merchandise that could be just as well purchased from local business men.

No matter what your needs may be, you should first go to your local man, give him the opportunity to quote you on your requirements. In many cases the local price will be lower, and you have the privilege of inspecting your entire purchase.

As individuals we often overlook the obligations we owe the local merchant.

In times of financial embarrassment, the local merchant is the first in our thoughts for assistance, until such time as we are able to pay.

This credit privilege is only available in the local field, and citizens who give preference to the local business houses when

THE REASON FOR EDUCATION

Education is the knowledge of how to use the whole of one's self. Men are often like knives with many blades; they know how to open one and only one; all the rest are buried in the handle, and they are no better than they would have been if the knife had been made with but one blade. Many men use but one or two faculties out of the score with which they are endowed. A man is educated who knows how to make a tool of every faculty how to open it, how to keep it sharp, learning to apply it to all practical purposes.

HELD MONDAY ROTARY MEETING

With eleven local members and three visitors from the Lethbridge Club the Rotarians held their usual Monday meeting in the United Church at 12. In the absence of President A. H. Zabriskie, vice-President Lee Brewerton was in the chair. After a fine meal served by the Ladies Aid, and to which the Rotarians did full justice, Rotarian R. J. R. Patterson of the Lethbridge Club gave a very fine talk on the Constitution and By-laws of Rotary as adopted by Rotary International, and which would have to be adopted by the local Club when it was erected by him for those indelibly interesting topic of his subject and those present thoroughly enjoyed it.

S. I. May contributed a solo and the meeting adjourned. Visitors from the Lethbridge Club besides the speaker were Jack Heinitz and Milt Moffat.

HEALTH

by Dr. J. H. Walker

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

REACTION TIME

Persons wishing to be aviators are subjected to a most thorough medical examination, and rightly so, as flying requires both physical fitness and mental alertness of a high order. One of the main tests to which the candidate is subjected is called the "reaction time" to determine fitness for the exacting responsibility of controlling an aeroplane.

Scientific instruments are used to measure accurately just how long it takes the individual under test to do certain things under varying conditions. In other words these instruments indicate clearly to what degree mental alertness and physical action are in harmony. In any group of persons so tested it is observed that some are slow, others are jumpy while others again are on the hair trigger of precision and accuracy of control.

Normal reaction time like normal pulse or normal temperature is desirable.

But unfortunately there are a great many persons whose reaction time is not normal. And in this fast moving age of motor traffic when split second decisions are often called for, serious accidents occur because at least one of the individuals concerned was not capable of responding quickly enough to the demands. His reaction time was too slow.

To all motorists, mechanics and to everybody who handles movable objects which if out of control can injure or destroy life, we would issue a word of caution.

Take stock of your reaction time. Try and be perfectly honest about it, too. By doing a little thinking on the subject you can likely determine whether or not your reaction time is normal. Then when you are faced with the responsibility of putting your reaction time to the test - play safe - by leaving yourself a wide margin beyond your normal.

This year in Canada 20,000 people will be injured in automobile accidents many of which will be due to the fact that drivers were not equal to the exigencies of the moment. They couldn't do the right thing quickly enough. Their reaction time was faulty. Put an honest rating upon your own reaction time and play safe.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St. Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

ALBERTA BUTTER GAINING

When Albertans demand a Made-in-Alberta product they can rest assured that so far as Alberta butter is concerned, they will receive a commodity which has taken premier honours in open competition at exhibitions all over the Dominion. A total of 907 prizes, awarded to Alberta butter at the 9 largest exhibitions in Canada represents 50.2 per cent of the total awards. No other province approached the Alberta record, and although 3 of the largest shows were held in Ontario, it is interesting to note that Alberta's chief competitor was the Province of Manitoba, with 760 awards. British Columbia exhibits won 62 prizes; Saskatchewan 44; Ontario 26; Quebec 9. Alberta buttermakers have captured 45.7 per cent of the First Group prizes, 51.3 per cent of Seconds and 57 per cent of Thirds. This summary of the awards should encourage Alberta butter-makers in the preparation of Alberta exhibits for the Royal Show, which will be held in Toronto, November 16-21. The Government will again duplicate the prize money won by exhibitors of dairy products at the Royal, and this year's exhibit from Alberta will probably be the largest yet.

King Neptune Awaits Cruise Passengers

King Neptune and his jolly crew of buccaneers will have their first opportunity of subjecting West Indies Cruise passengers to the traditional rites of the "Fishy Court" when the Empress of Australia, in the course of one of the Canadian Pacific's eight West Indies cruises this winter, crosses the equator on her way to Rio de Janeiro.

For the first time in West Indies cruising the glamorous Brazilian city, with the "most beautiful harbor in the world" and unvarnished mountain scenery almost within its city limits, has been included in a Caribbean itinerary and the Empress will cross the equator and be boarded by King Neptune en route there. St. George's, Grenada, one of the lovely Windward Islands, and also a new port of call, will be another attraction of the 22 day cruise starting from New York on January 15. Five days will be spent at Rio, time enough for a thorough exploration of the glamorous Latin city and its surrounding beauties and one evening will be devoted to a special round of the exotic night-life of the metropolis. At Grenada lovely St. George's guarded by ancient Fort St. George, has peculiar charm among Caribbean towns. During the day spent there a special excursion will go to Grand Etang, a volcanic lake set high in the mountains overlooking the town.

The Empress of Britain, world cruising flagship of the Canadian Pacific, will lead off the West Indies season with a 12 day Christmas and New Year trip to Jamaica, the Panama Canal Zone and Cuba. The Empress of Australia follows with seven voyages, leaving New York: January 4, March 11 and March 22, for nine days each voyage, to the Bahamas, Cuba and Bermuda; January 15, for 32 days, to Barbados, Rio de Janeiro, Grenada, Venezuela and Jamaica; February 19, for 19 days, to Martinique, Barbados, Trinidad, Curacao, the Panama Canal Zone, Jamaica and Cuba; April 12, for 12 days, to Jamaica, Cuba and the Bahamas; and finally, April 14, an Easter Holiday Cruise, for ten days, to Jamaica and Cuba.

Picture layout shows a glimpse of beautiful Grenada, the Empress of Australia and happy scenes from the colorful ceremonies which highlight King Neptune's visit.

WEEKLY LETTER

Preparing Seed Fair Exhibits

Seed fairs will be attracting attention from farmers during the months ahead and some hints on preparing samples for exhibiting should be timely. Conditions in southern Alberta localities favourable for the past season, were in many production of high quality and large numbers of exhibits of outstanding merit should be available for showing at seed fairs this coming winter.

Agoo sample is the first essential in making up a winning exhibit, but the proper preparation is scarcely less important where competition is keen and prizes have to be awarded largely on general quality, appearance and condition of the sample. In fact the claim is sometimes made that prizes are offered for skill in exhibiting rather than for the actual merit of the exhibit itself. This criticism can scarcely be considered valid however because the successful exhibitor must first of all be a successful grower and he uses his showmanship simply as a means of displaying his products to best advantage. Following are a few pointers on preparing grain corn and potato exhibits offered by W. D. Hay cerealist at this Station.

In preparing seed in size; of good colour; high in weight per bushel; free from immature kernels cracked or damaged kernels, and, of course, free from weed seeds or impurities of any as much grading as possible kind. It is advisable to first do with the fan mill and finally to remove the remaining undesirable kernels by hand.

In wheat the abnormally large kernels are first removed and of the remainder those which will not pass through a

No. 9 round screen are of the size required for show purposes. After grading is done to obtain them a slotted screen 7-61 should be used to eliminate cracked kernels.

In the case of oats grading can best be done by passing them over a 13-64 screen to remove the short oats, and then over a round screen to grade them for plumpness. Green kernels that cannot be removed by fanning should be picked out by hand.

Potatoes should be selected as nearly ten ounces in size as possible and uniformity of size and shape is essential. They should be well cleaned, but too often the mistake of over-washing them is made. It is important that all the tubers be well matured, free from injury in harvesting and disease of any kind.

In preparing an exhibit of corn one must be familiar with what constitutes a typical ear of the variety being prepared. All ears should then be chosen so as to conform as closely as possible to that standard and the ears in a particular exhibit should be as nearly uniform as it is possible to select them. The ears chosen should be well matured properly dried and of desirable size. It is often advisable to sacrifice size of ear slightly in order to obtain greater maturity.

PROFIT vs. SERVICE

"If profit and profit alone -- be the end sought by human effort, then society must reconcile itself to steady disintegration, increasing conflict between individual groups and nations and eventual destruction. It is only when we rise above the profit motive, and learn to subordinate profit to service, that social, economic and political order begin to come within sight of a firm foundation and a continuing existence with peace and happiness assured to the great mass of mankind."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler,
President Columbia University

Allan Erickson of Wrentham was a visitor during Conference with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alf Erickson in Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Ross and daughter Twilla were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Allred.

Mr. Jones, dad wants to borrow your corkscrew.
All right sonny, said Jones reaching for his coat.
You run along home, I'll bring it over.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

BY

H. G. L. Strange

Director "Crop Testing Plan"

"If I feed some of your Registered seed grain to my hogs, Mr. Strange, will it improve the pigs, and can I get them Registered?"

A good lady, new to farming, in all good faith, recently asked this question.

"No madam" I replied, "Registered seed cannot perform that miracle. It cannot improve hogs. It can, however, greatly improve your crops both in quality and in yield and so can help you to make more money."

"But why is Registered seed any better than any other kind of seed? What does 'Registered' mean anyway?" she said.

Many others have asked this question. Here is short answer. Registered seed comes from a crop that has been examined in the field by a competent certifier, and found to be true-to-variety to a high standard of excellence, i.e. to contain not more than one off-type plant in ten thousand. The individual crop then given a pedigree by the Canadian Seed Grower's Association.

The cleaned seed is afterwards examined in the sack by the Dominion Seed Branch. If found to be high in germination, and almost free from the seeds of other kinds of grain and of weeds, the sack is sealed and tagged, so the contents guaranteed to be Registered seed.

Following factors have tended to raise price:—Japan negotiating for Daubain wheat—Official Hungarian corn estimate reduced—Floating wheat stocks small—European hog numbers decline—Smaller hop crop expected in Europe—Expect small Yugo Slavian prune crop—Lack of moisture tends to decrease U. S. winter seedings.

Following factors have tended to lower price—Production of all major Manchurian crops above last year—Rains make Indian wheat seeding prospects satisfactory—Rains beneficial for winter sowings in Czechoslovakia—Greece using potato flour to restrict wheat imports—Expect record potato crop in Germany—Light rains improve Southern Hemisphere crops.

WHEN A FATHER PRAYS

Build me a son, O Lord, will be strong enough to now when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid. One who will be proud and unbending in defeat but humble and gentle in victory.

A son whose wishbone will not be where his backbone should be: A son who will know that to know himself, is the foundation stone of knowledge.

Rear him I pray, not in the paths of ease and comfort but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenges. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm: here let him learn compassion for those who fail.

Build me a son whose heart will be clean, whose goal will be high. A son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men. One who will learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep. One who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past.

And after all these are his, add I pray, enough of a sense of humor so that he may always be serious yet never take himself too seriously; a touch of humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness the open mind of true wisdom: The meekness of true strength.

Then, I, his father, will dare to whisper, "I have not lived in vain." — The Budget.

Mamma if the Lord gives us our daily bread, and Santa Claus brings our toys, and the stork brings the babies, what is father hanging around for.

Clerk—These are especially strong shirts, madam. They simply laugh at the laundry.

Yes, I know that kind, I had some which came back with their sides split.

Teacher—Can't you name even one product exported by Cuba? Where do you get your sugar?

Tommy—From the neighbors mostly.

PAVED HIGHWAYS
BOON TO ALBERTA

Keeping an eye on the tourist traffic, the province of New Brunswick has adopted the slogan, "paved highways for our province."

Now that Alberta is launching out on a hard surfacing program it is interesting to note what steps are being taken in other provinces. In practically all of them plans are being made or work has been undertaken with a view to establishing a system of paved highways. Some have extensive paved highway systems already.

Paved highways are an asset to a province, attracting tourists.

Dr. F. M. Hall was in Calgary on business over the week-end.

ist trade and improving business as a result. Dirt roads are not exactly a liability but it is a recognized fact that they present added dangers to motorists.

Fast maintenance and flying stones are among the faults of dirt roads. Many an accident has been caused just by a flying piece of stone distracting a driver's attention.

Alberta, with 110 miles of the first stage of hard surfacing completed this year, is all set for finishing touches to be put to an extensive mileage early next year.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association state this should be given the attention of the provincial government just as soon as the construction season opens, so that the work will be largely completed when the tourist season reaches its peak.
